STAY TUNED ON WHAT WE ARE DOING!

CHAMA NA SOLUÇÃO (CALL ME IN FOR A SOLUTION)

Empowering adolescents and young adults living in slums and outskirts of Rio de Janeiro to look for solutions in order to ensure their rights in the communities.

That is our goal!

Through a strong partnership between UNICEF and CEDAPS, we intend to engage the young people in a change to improve their communities, because only those living there know what needs to be done and have the energy to change their reality.

CHAMA NA TRANSFORMAÇÃO (CALL ME IN FOR CHANGE)

«Chama na Solução» has already been in 34 communities and neighborhood of Rio de Janeiro in 2019!

In the first edition, the group focused on:

Reducing inequalities for a productive inclusion of adolescents and young adults!

AND WHAT CAME OUT OF THAT IDEA?

Several solutions, innovation and alternatives!

The participants designed 5 hands-on projects:

Empresa Poética | @empresapoetica («Poetic Enterprise»)

Recruitment processes need to be humanized: that is the motto of this group, which aims to connect the corporate world with sensitive topics for young people, such as transphobia, HIV, the value of young slum dwellers, among others. Its main strategy were live transmissions in social media.

De Dentro Pra Fora | @de.dentroprafora19 («From the inside out»)

The focus of the project was socio-emotional strengthening of young people from slums and outskirts, based on surveys about their needs and desires related to the corporate world. The group held on-line activities aimed at self-knowledge and acknowledgment of professional capabilities and aspirations.

Jovens Podem | @jovenspodem («Young people can»)

Three audiences in particular were on focus in this project: young people in Juvenile Justice System, young unemployed mothers and young people looking for their first job. The goal was to provide them with quality information and work and income opportunities.

Conecta Jovem | @conecta_.jovem («Connecting young people»)

With the help of a partnering institution, which offered its space in a community on the west side of Rio de Janeiro, Conecta Jovem used the seed money from Chama na Solução to invest in computers and Internet access, so that adolescents and young people from that region could study and do online school work during the pandemic.

AND NOW, WHAT IS BEING DONE?

In the 2022 edition, 50 young people aged 14 to 24 were selected in Rio de Janeiro.

They participated in debates, trainings and actions to create practical solutions which can be implemented in everyday life.

Listen up: we don't just want to discuss, we want to MAKE IT HAPPEN.

In the second edition, held in 2022, the focus was:

Youth united in violence prevention!

Dealing with various forms of violence which affect life in society:

Physical, psychological, gender, sexual, domestic, online and LGBTQIAP+.

HOW WAS IT DONE?

Step by step, we saw #change take place!

1. First, there was the online group creation;
2. Afterwards, collective solutions were built and propositions were mentored;
3. Once the solutions were defined, it was time to get real;
4. And, to wrap it up, we worked on systematizing and disseminating the experience.

AND WHAT CAME OUT OF THAT IDEA?

Several solutions, innovation and alternatives! They designed 05 hands-on projects:

Jovens Revolucionários («Revolutionary Youth»)

Residents of the Complexo da Maré, Rio de Janeiro, did a community survey, from youth to youth, covering violence and the perceptions of adolescents and young adults about their impacts and possible interventions to solve them. The survey also aimed to collect information on their knowledge about shelter and reporting channels in cases of violence.

Intercâmbio de Cria («Exchange between kiddos»)

Adolescents and young adults from different areas of the city of Rio de Janeiro presented the idea of the Webseries: Papo de Cria (Kiddo Talk) - a webseries which shows everyday violence. With a pilot episode about racial violence, which is available here.

@intercambiodecria

Entrando com A Solução («Coming in with the solution»)

Adolescents and young adults from Pavuna (Rio de Janeiro) presented the idea of the podcast: PodSolução (Podsolution)- A podcast to reflect on and expand the discussion/fight of domestic violence in Pavuna. The group has already recorded the first episode, which is available here.

@ecsolucao

Ajudando & Apoiando («Helping and supporting»)

Adolescents and young adults from Pavuna (Rio de Janeiro) suggested creating a movement of debates in their district schools to talk about the various forms of violence and their impacts on people's lives and mental health. The aim is to disseminate information to other adolescents and young adults in that region, by means of activities for reflection and personal immersion. The first debate, a pilot proposition, took place in the closing event of the Chama na Solução project, in the schools of their district to talk about the topic, being facilitated by the psychologist Adriana Bonneterre.

@ajudandoeapoiando

Palavra por Palavra («Word by word»)

Adolescents and young adults from Pavuna (Rio de Janeiro) presented a poetry slam in the closing event of the Chama na Solução project. With lots of poetry and rhyme battles, the battle topic was the fight against verbal violence, which reflects various kinds of violence.

AND WHAT DIFFERENCE DOES ALL OF THAT MAKE AROUND HERE?

The solutions they came up with are implemented in the communities, and the young people who took part in the project act as champions of what they have learned in their communities and their region, having an impact in their territories' public policies!

More than talking, we are up to #DO and #CHANGE.

THAT IS WHY WE CALL FOR SOLUTION!

Stay tuned and don't miss out on the results created by the adolescents and young people.
