How to nurture the potential and protagonism of young people in the YAE

1. Opportunity youth in YAE
   - Young people aged 15 to 29 represent 31.6% of YAE enrollments.¹

2. The Program contributes to the growth of young people living in and around favelas.

3. Actions to promote transformation
   - With coordinated initiatives and strategies, it is possible to reduce inequalities and enable YAE youth to reach their potential in different contexts.

Impact across different dimensions:

- Leadership
- Labor Market
- Higher education
- Social and community development

Impact data of Program youth participants:

- 80% consider going to university
- 75% are employed or studying
- 75% have a disability
- 67% are enrolled or intend to enroll in a vocational course in the next 24 months

Notes:

¹ PNAD Education 2019 - IBGE; ² Education Observatory, with data from the 2020 School Census. ³ Income Shocks and School Dropouts in Latin America - World Bank 2018; ⁴ Synthesis of Social Indicators 2019 - IBGE. ⁵ Abrinq Foundation 2018; ⁶ National Network of Trans People of Brazil 2017. ⁷ National Health Survey (PNS) - IBGE; ⁸ School Census 2021 - INEP.

Source: Impact evaluation of the Jovens Construtores Program based on a randomized controlled trial.